DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on February 1, 2007 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 4-5 and 23-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 4 and 5 recite the limitation "removing the film; and thereafter curing includes: curing the underfill material that is between the die and the mounting substrate." It is confusing since the instant invention does not disclose that curing the underfill material between the die and the mounting substrate after removing the film.

Claim 23 recites the limitation of "a first heating source ... ; and a second heating source." It is confusing since this aspect is not disclosed in the instant invention.

Art Unit: 2811

Claim 25 recites the limitation "... a mold press that gives shape to the film." Note that the instant invention does not disclose this aspect. And furthermore, the film is a thin layer stretched over the package, therefore, the mold press is not for shaping the film.

Claim 24 is dependent on claim 23.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1, 3, 7 and 8 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-16 of U.S. Patent No. 6,703,299. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because of the following reasons.

Art Unit: 2811

It appears that pending claim 1 and claim 6 of '299 patent are identical. And note that pending claim 3 recites the limitation that is substantially identical to one of the limitations in pending claim 1. Therefore, pending claims 1 and 3 are recited substantially identical to claim 6 of '299 patent.

Pending claim 7 is recited in claims 9 and 11 of '299 patent in a substantially identical manner except a minor difference in wording. It is also noted that pending claim 7 is substantially identical to claim 7 of '299 patent except the mere variance in wording.

Pending claim 8 is recited in claim 8 of '299 patent in a substantially identical manner.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to pending claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
